

Willowed Whispers

Rain and Distant Thunder

Recorded from the Spring Run I-2 portico on a rainy afternoon, with occasional, soft rumbles of distant thunder echoing between local buildings. There is a dripping downspout, and automobiles can be heard driving on wet pavement.

http:// is.gd/tazoto

whisper004.mp3
Plays 8 minutes - 7.6 megabytes

← Double-sided tape here →

Prism by William Engstrom
Whispers

This panel is hidden after folding

INSTRUCTIONS Print on 24 lb. paper. Cut on dots, fold on hyphens. Begin with bottom edge, cutting only enough below the dots so that they remain visible for when you later trim the sides. Then cut just above the top-edge dots in a similar manner. Next, align the hyphens over the sharp edge of your paper cutter and use finger pressure to score the three folds. Finally, trim both sides on the dots. Fold into a triangle, with the fourth panel behind the first. Use two small pieces of double-sided tape to hold it together. Hint You can also connect the dots with very light pencil lines and use scissors

Tested with the free app named Scan for iPhone and iPod touch - Page revised May 20, 2011
Designed by phototelegrapher.org and published through twitter.com/WillowWatchers